

January 30, 2015

Health and Travel Advisory:

The Centers for Disease Control has alerted our school physician that the US and Mexico are experiencing a rare outbreak of measles on the west coast stemming from an initial case exposure in Disneyland over holiday break in December. If families are planning travel, particularly to the west coast or Mexico, this is a good time to consider checking immunization status on your entire family to ensure everyone is up to date with MMR and other vaccines, including flu. Travel safely and stay healthy!